Assessment: a landscape of challenges

- Atomistic & poorly described
- High stakes & stressful
- Disconnected from learning
- Not personalised
- Low engagement in participation & evaluative judgement
- Limited by 19th Century mindsets & technologies
- Not integrative of C21 skills

TRADITIONAL ASSESSMENT	REVIEW BASED ASSESSMENT
Atomistic & poorly described	Criteria based - Connects short to long-term learning
High stakes & stressful	Encourages formative approaches
Disconnected from learning	Supports use of feedback for performance improvement
Not personalised	Highly personalised
Low engagement & evaluative judgement	Encourages reflection through self and peer assessment
Limited by 19 th Century mindsets & technologies	Web-based & graphical
Not integrative of C21 skills	Based on Broad Capability framework

Leading universities use REVIEW

REVIEW for performance management & training: Exec MBA Analysis

Stakeholder interviews revealed that:

- Employees want personalized career development
- Successful HR software implementation is dependent on cultural readiness and end-to-end HR Processes;
- Employees have a desire for more solution-oriented conversation/feedback around issues shortening the gap between feedback and action taken in response to it
- Human resource in soft skills continue to require hard metrics to evaluate success
- Employees need to know what they are being measured on and employers need to know what they are managing

A dominant focus on financial rewards places limits on the ways in which employees perceive the potential benefit of exceeding goals and expectations;

- Clear, articulated statement of what organisations value & want to develop
- Measurable, transparent employee development & tracking
- Engages staff in PD & judgement development
- Gains for both individuals and organisations

Employee evaluation and development: industry context

- Individual Performance development
- Individual Performance management
- Talent identification and management

All Serving Organisational Development Strategy

Individual Performance Development

80% of executives approached by Deloitte in 2017 rated employee experience as very important or important, however, only 22% indicated that the companies they worked for were excellent at offering an outstanding employee experience.

Deloitte University Press. 2017 Deloitte Global Human Capital Trends: Rewriting the Rules for the Digital Age

Individual Performance Management

“Continuous performance management approach must work together with technology that provides real-time data, with 71% of employees and leaders believing that this type of technology would improve performance management”

Payal Vasudeva, Tim Good and Johan Eerenstein. Technology Reinvents Performance Management. Accenture Strategy, 2017

Talent identification and management

“The anticipation of required human capital for an organization and the planning to meet those needs”

“Businesses with a solid learning culture demonstrate employee engagement and retention rates around 30 to 50% higher than companies who do not consider these practices”
